

Girl Scout Daisies Leader Guide to Cookie Sales

Welcome to the wonderful world of Girl Scouting and the exciting opportunities that await you and your troop members! The Daisy level of Girl Scouting is a unique and exciting opportunity for girls. They begin to learn the many ways they are special, that everybody is different and unique and what it means to make friends and be part of a group. As they learn what it means to be a Girl Scout, they are introduced to Girl Scout ways:

- Appreciation of nature
- Discovery
- Using math skills
- Exploring art and music
- Challenging themselves physically

The Girl Scout Cookie Sale Activity is an optional program activity for all Girl Scout age levels. The sale provides proceeds for your troop to cover expenses such as fees to attend program events, the cost to purchase Daisy level earned awards (such as The Promise Circle and Learning Petals) and supplies for projects. More importantly, participating in cookie activities is a fun, skill-building experience for girls and their families. At the Daisy level, cookie activities are a great way for parents and guardians to interact with their daughters in a new way and for Girl Scout families to learn more about Girl Scouting.
